Dimitri Anastasov (dance, clarinet)

Filip Anastasov (dance, gajda, tambura)

Aleksandar Pereski (accordeon)

Oliver Goers (percussion)

After seven years, the master of Macedonian dances is in Berlin again, this time with live music. Saško is one of the most distinguished dance instructors teaching in Norway, Spain, France or in Macedonia. He is also well known and beloved in Germany. Saško combines his beautiful dance repertoire with dancing passion to unforgettable experiences for all participants.

For his seminar he brings his sons Dimitri (dance, clarinet) and Filip (dance, tambura, gajda) as well as the young accordionist Aleksandar Pereski.

The musicians will accompany the seminar live and will be supported by Oliver Goers on tapan. They also will play on the Saturday night dance party, together with the Berlin based Balkan band Ljuti Hora. We are looking forward to a nice weekend with our guests from Veles.

The seminar is suitable for Balkan dancers and fans of Macedonian folkore music. It is helpful to bring previous knowledge in (Greek) Macedonian or Bulgarian dances. The language of instruction is English.
