We know Petros for years: thanks to his uniquely enthusiastic teaching, quite a few Berliners discovered their love for Greek dances at his seminars. He mostly teaches dances from his Greek-Macedonian homeland but also some from the whole north of Greece. He will bring along two greatly experienced musicians : Dimitris (clarinet) plays music from Greece but his greatest passion are songs and dances from his native Macedonia. Jannis (accordeon) is specialized for Thracian music. Our Greek guests will be supported by Oliver Goers, the drummer of the Berlin-based band Ljuti Hora. On Friday before the seminar there will be a concert in a Greek restaurant and on Saturday there will be a party at the seminar venue.

The seminar is designed for dancers both for experienced dancers and for beginners with basic prior knowledge. The language of the seminar is German, but there will be translations, if it's necessary.

We actually don't know the corona rules in 2022.
